iCAL

It's ahead of its time! Keep track of your busy schedule and share it with others using Calendar.

Create separate calendars — one for home, another for school, a third for work, and so on. See all your calendars in a single window or choose to see only the calendars you want.

The inspector not only lets you add a location to your event, it also helps you out by suggesting locations as you type, then provides a map and a weather forecast.

Calendar also works with iCloud, Yahoo, and Google. And when you use iCloud, every Calendar change you make on your Mac automatically appears on your iPad, iPhone, and iPod touch. So no dinner dates are missed, no meeting goes unattended, and no anniversary is forgotten.

Tip: Use color coding for work, life, balance!

NOTES

Keep track of all your notes in one place and back them up in iCloud.

Using Notes, you can create a note and add an image or a file to it by drag-and-dropping, you can delete notes, and you can share notes via email or messaging.

Notes really works quite well and is all you need if you want is a simple, built-in solution for synchronizing notes among all your devices as well as some rudimentary storage and organization features.

Instead of reaching for a post-it note and pen, think about using your notes app.

REMINDERS

Use Reminders to organize your life in to-do lists, complete with due dates and locations.

Share list with co-workers, friend and family members.

When driving, be sure to use Siri as you speak your reminders into the phone.

If you need to be reminded of something when you leave a location, use this app to remind you-be sure to have your location services turned on.

iCLOUD

iCloud connects you and your Apple devices in amazing ways. It makes sure you always have the latest versions of your most important things — like documents, apps, notes, and contacts — on whatever device you are using.

It lets you easily share photos, calendars, locations, and more with friends and family. It even helps you find your device if you lose it. And iCloud does it all automatically. Just like that.

iCloud is easy to set up:

Whether you're on an iPhone, iPad, iPod touch, Mac, or PC, getting started with iCloud is simple. For new Apple devices, there's a setup assistant built right in. And for everything else, setup takes just a few quick steps.
